Robert E. Lee High School, even through its own name, brings to mind years and generations gone by. The spirit of the school thrives on the romance of a time far removed from us today. But regardless of how exciting this era might have been, we live today right now. Leaving the romantic past to the minds and imagination of men, the 1969 Sabre staff has worked to record what has taken place in the present. Therefore, unlike previous years, there will be no Civil War reproductions, no scenes of 19th century steamboats churning the river. We merely set the truth on film, and the film on paper.

So now, before this, our recent past, also becomes part of a forgotten time gone by, consider one year of life as it took place at – Robert E. Lee High School – 1969.

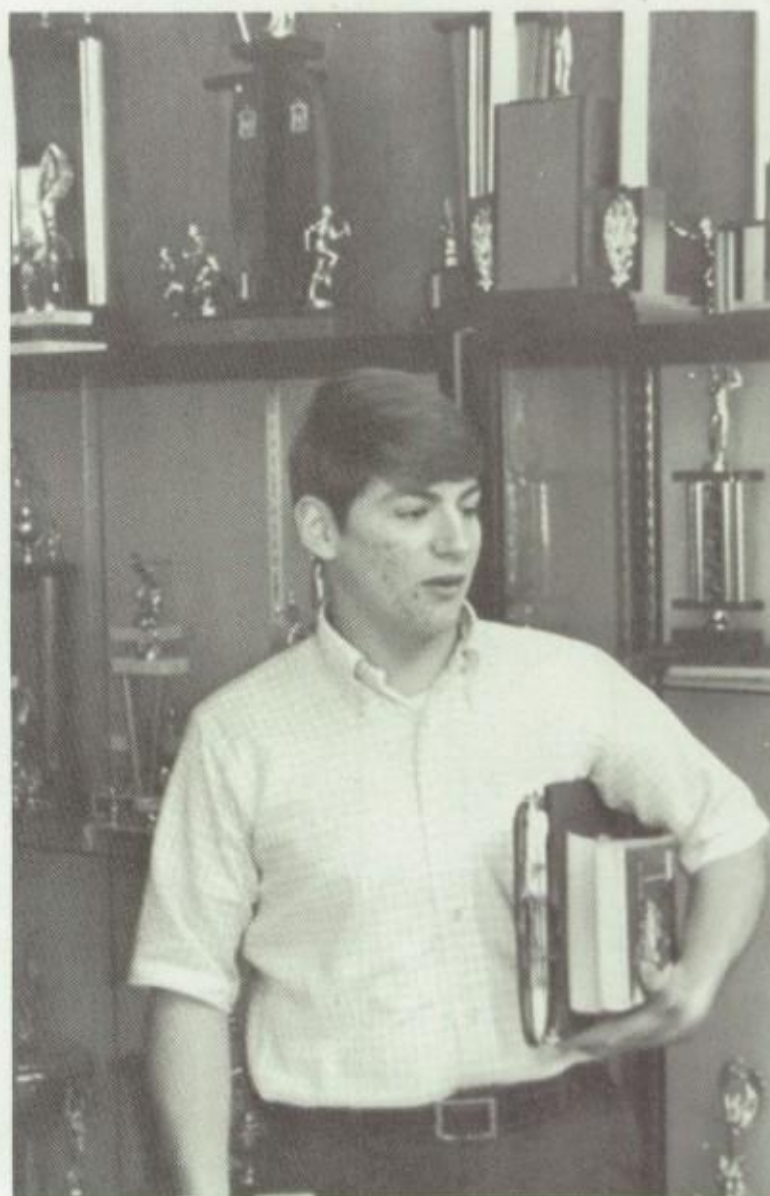

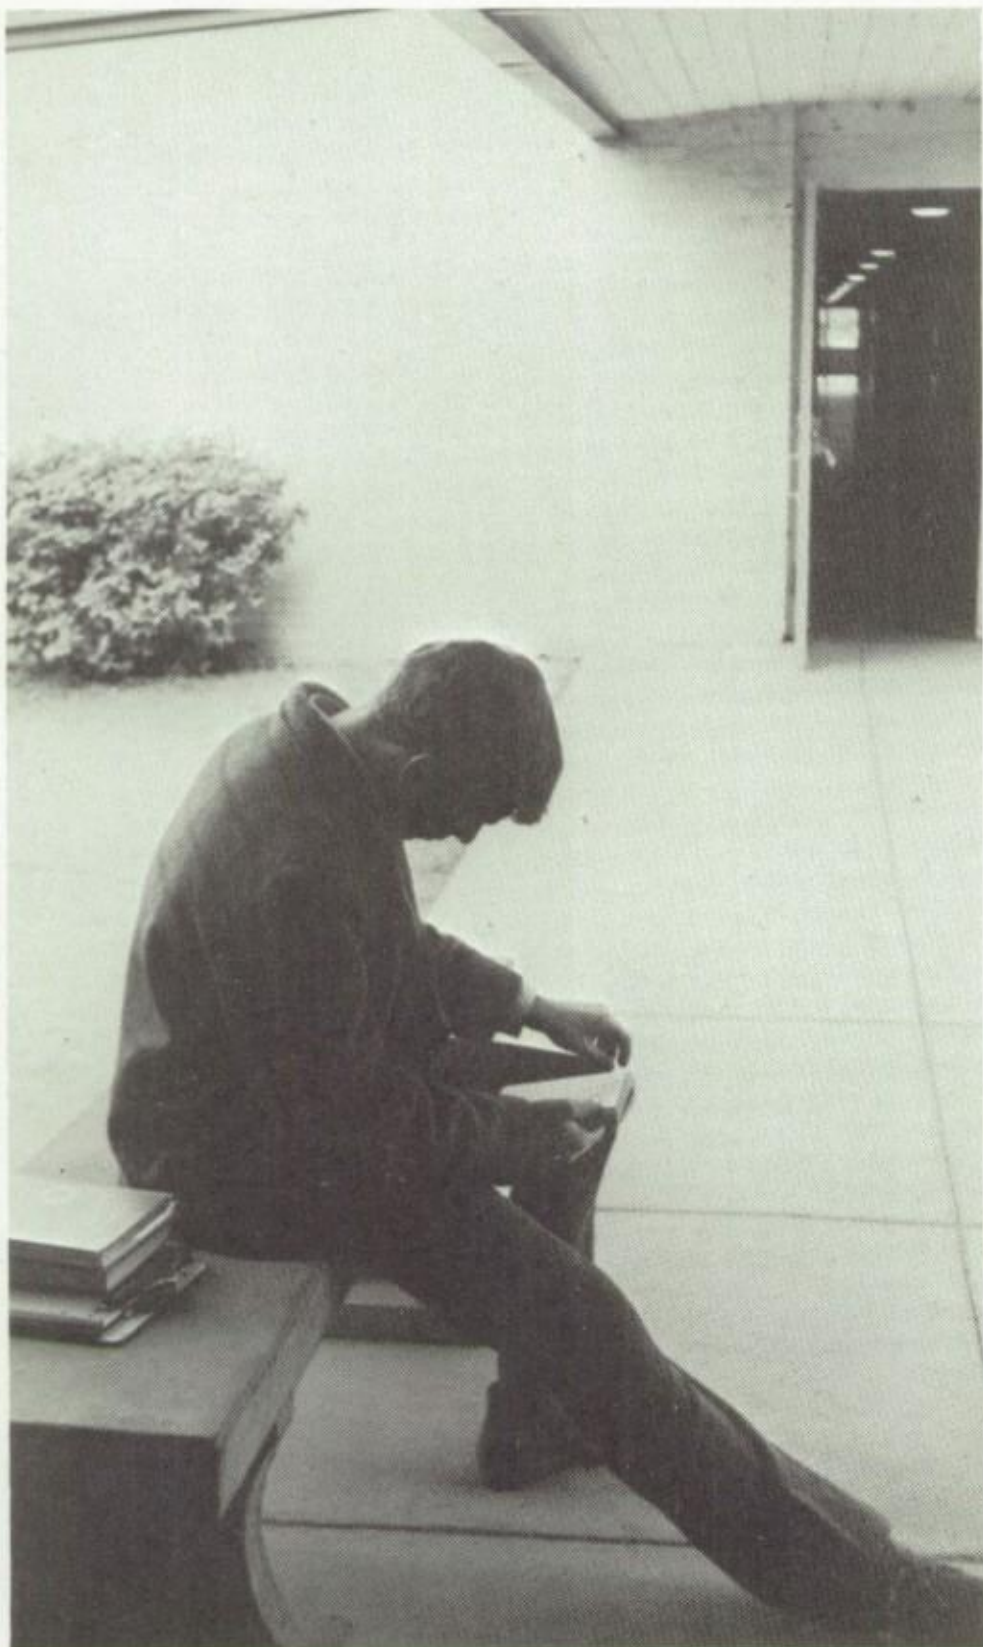

Recall a year spent. Time shared in many ways with many people. Time spent in thought, in action, in waste. But never—not in times of study, play, or emotion—have we been alone. There is an ever-present exchange between us. An exchange of life between us at
LEE HIGH

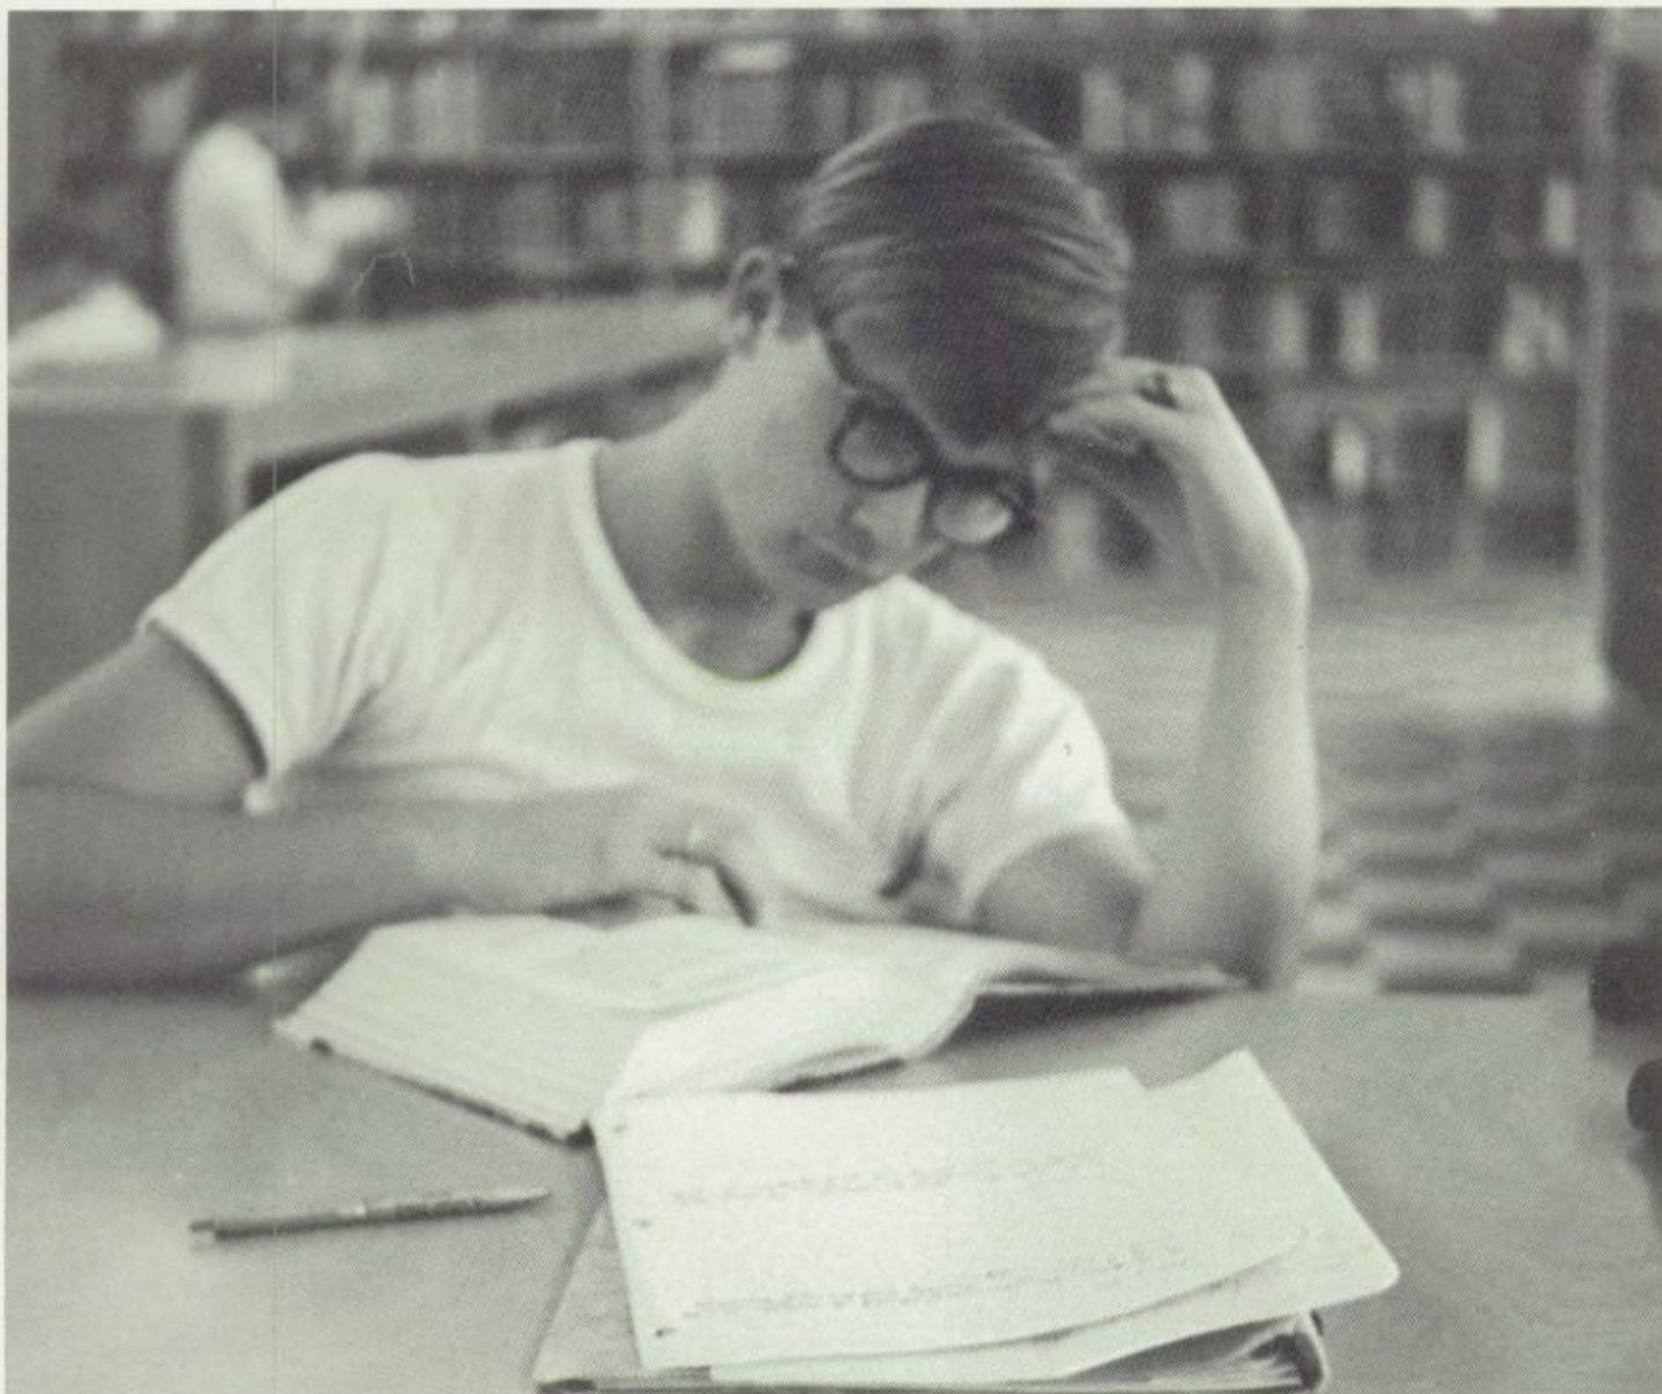

There is a force at Lee. Taking the form of a friendly phantom. Appearing dimly at first, but gradually becoming clearer, stronger. Allowing an outlet for exchange of work, of fellowship. A force sweeping, moving—until

ALL ARE INVOLVED.

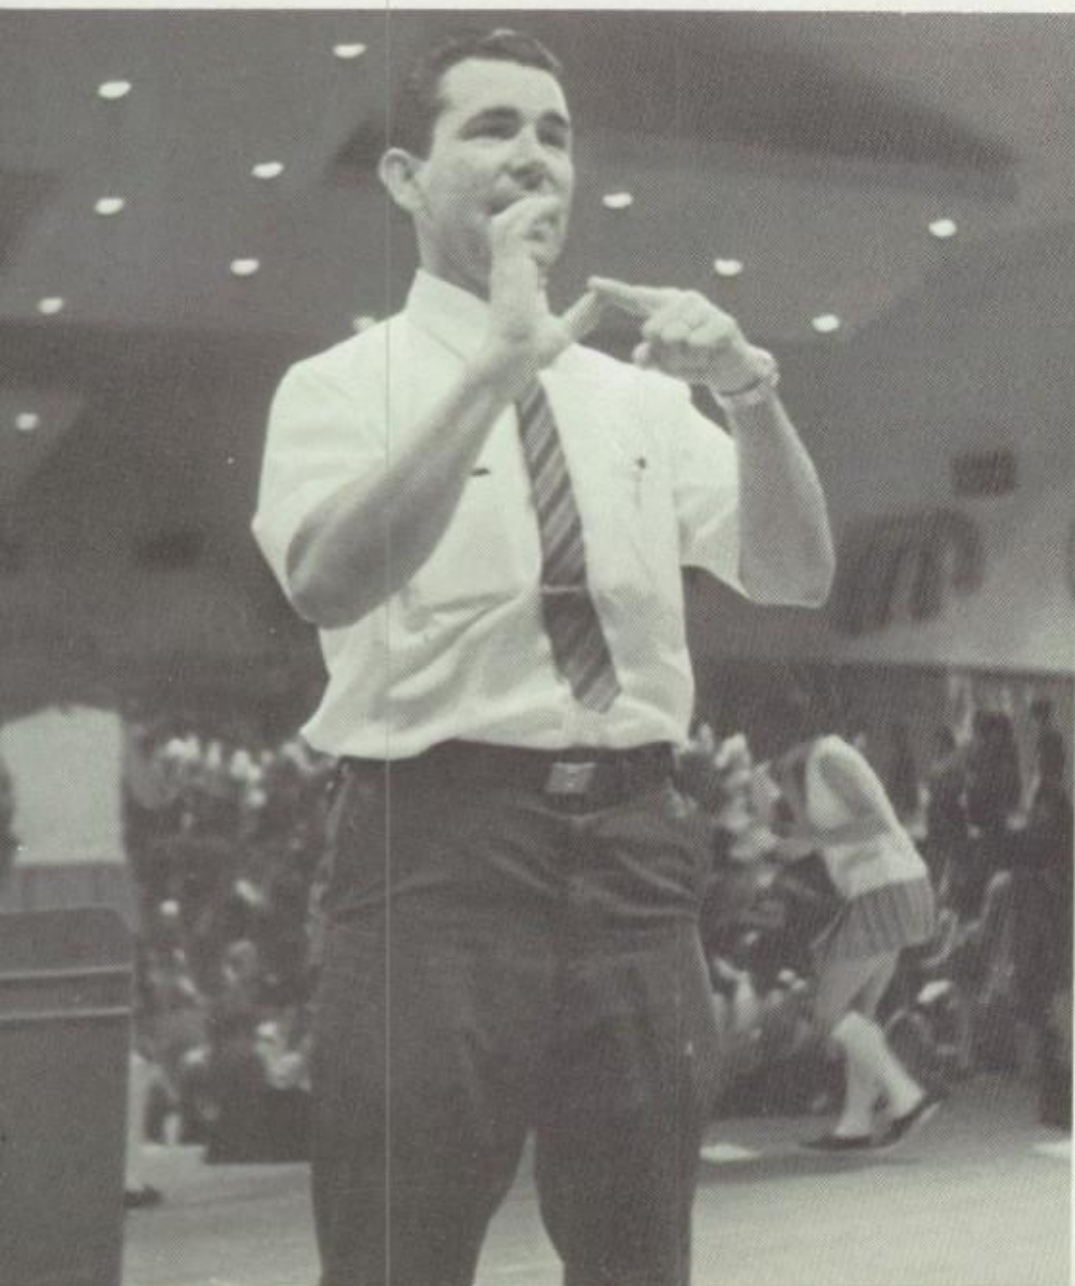

What I know, I teach. What is unknown, what is not within my grasp, I pursue. Until I gain. An exchange is made. Man was told to learn, to have dominion over all the earth. This is our profession. It is a difficult job. Problems are technical; theories are complex. Lee is an opportunity to conquer ignorance. Realizing this, we

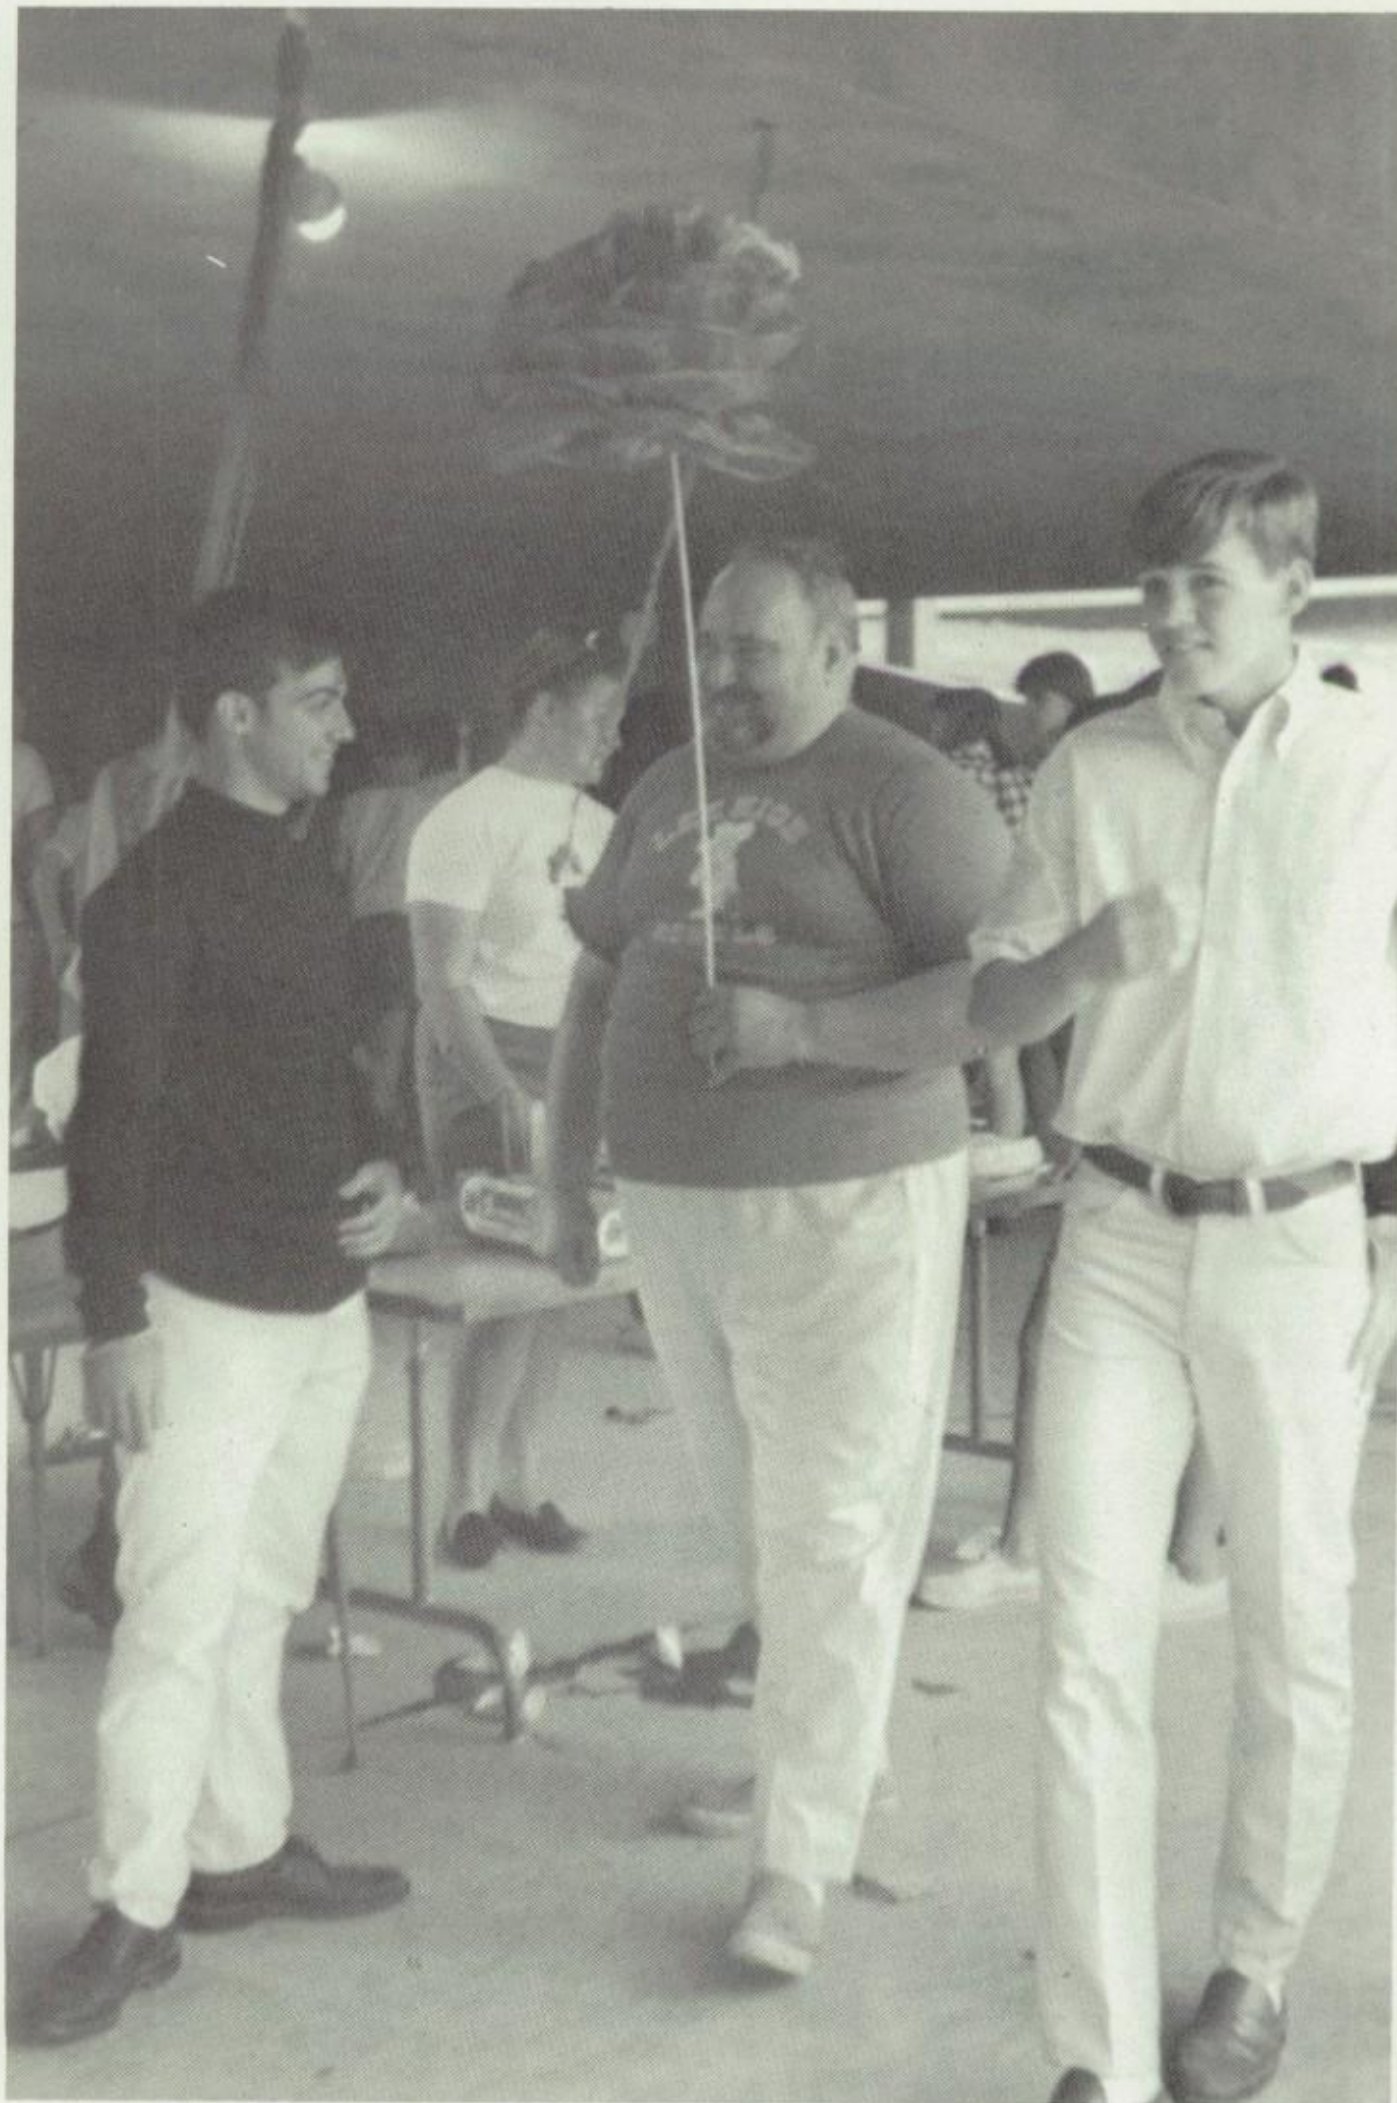

SEEK TO UNDERSTAND.

To express oneself. To relate. A feeling of satisfaction and fulfillment comes with personal interpretation. At an age when following and obeying and conforming are so stressed, creativity is refreshing. Our own personal and entirely unique feelings can be expressed through the arts. Individualism is permitted; moods are exchanged through THEATER, MUSIC, SONG.

In the spring of the year a break is taken from the settled routine of study. There is a time when music plays. When hot-dogs are eaten. An exchange of human pleasure prevails. Carnival fever has come to the young of South Baton Rouge. A time filled with wholesome fun overtakes participants of all ages, shapes, and sizes

DIXIE DAY.

Competition is keen. The spirit to win, to triumph; the desire to obtain greatness in anything undertaken. There seems to be strong evidence of a deep-rooted tradition at Lee. Confederettes, cheerleaders, sports organizations; all display an exchange of effort on behalf of "Rebel Spirit." Many things are important on this campus but
ABOVE ALL—PRIDE

Relationships are dear. In them we find security, identity. There is a sense of belonging. Amidst the mass of faces, we seek out and find those which are meaningful to us. Some faces reflect acquaintance; others friendship; others respect. Some—perhaps one—reflect all we care about. Many exchanges are made. But most important

FRIENDSHIP

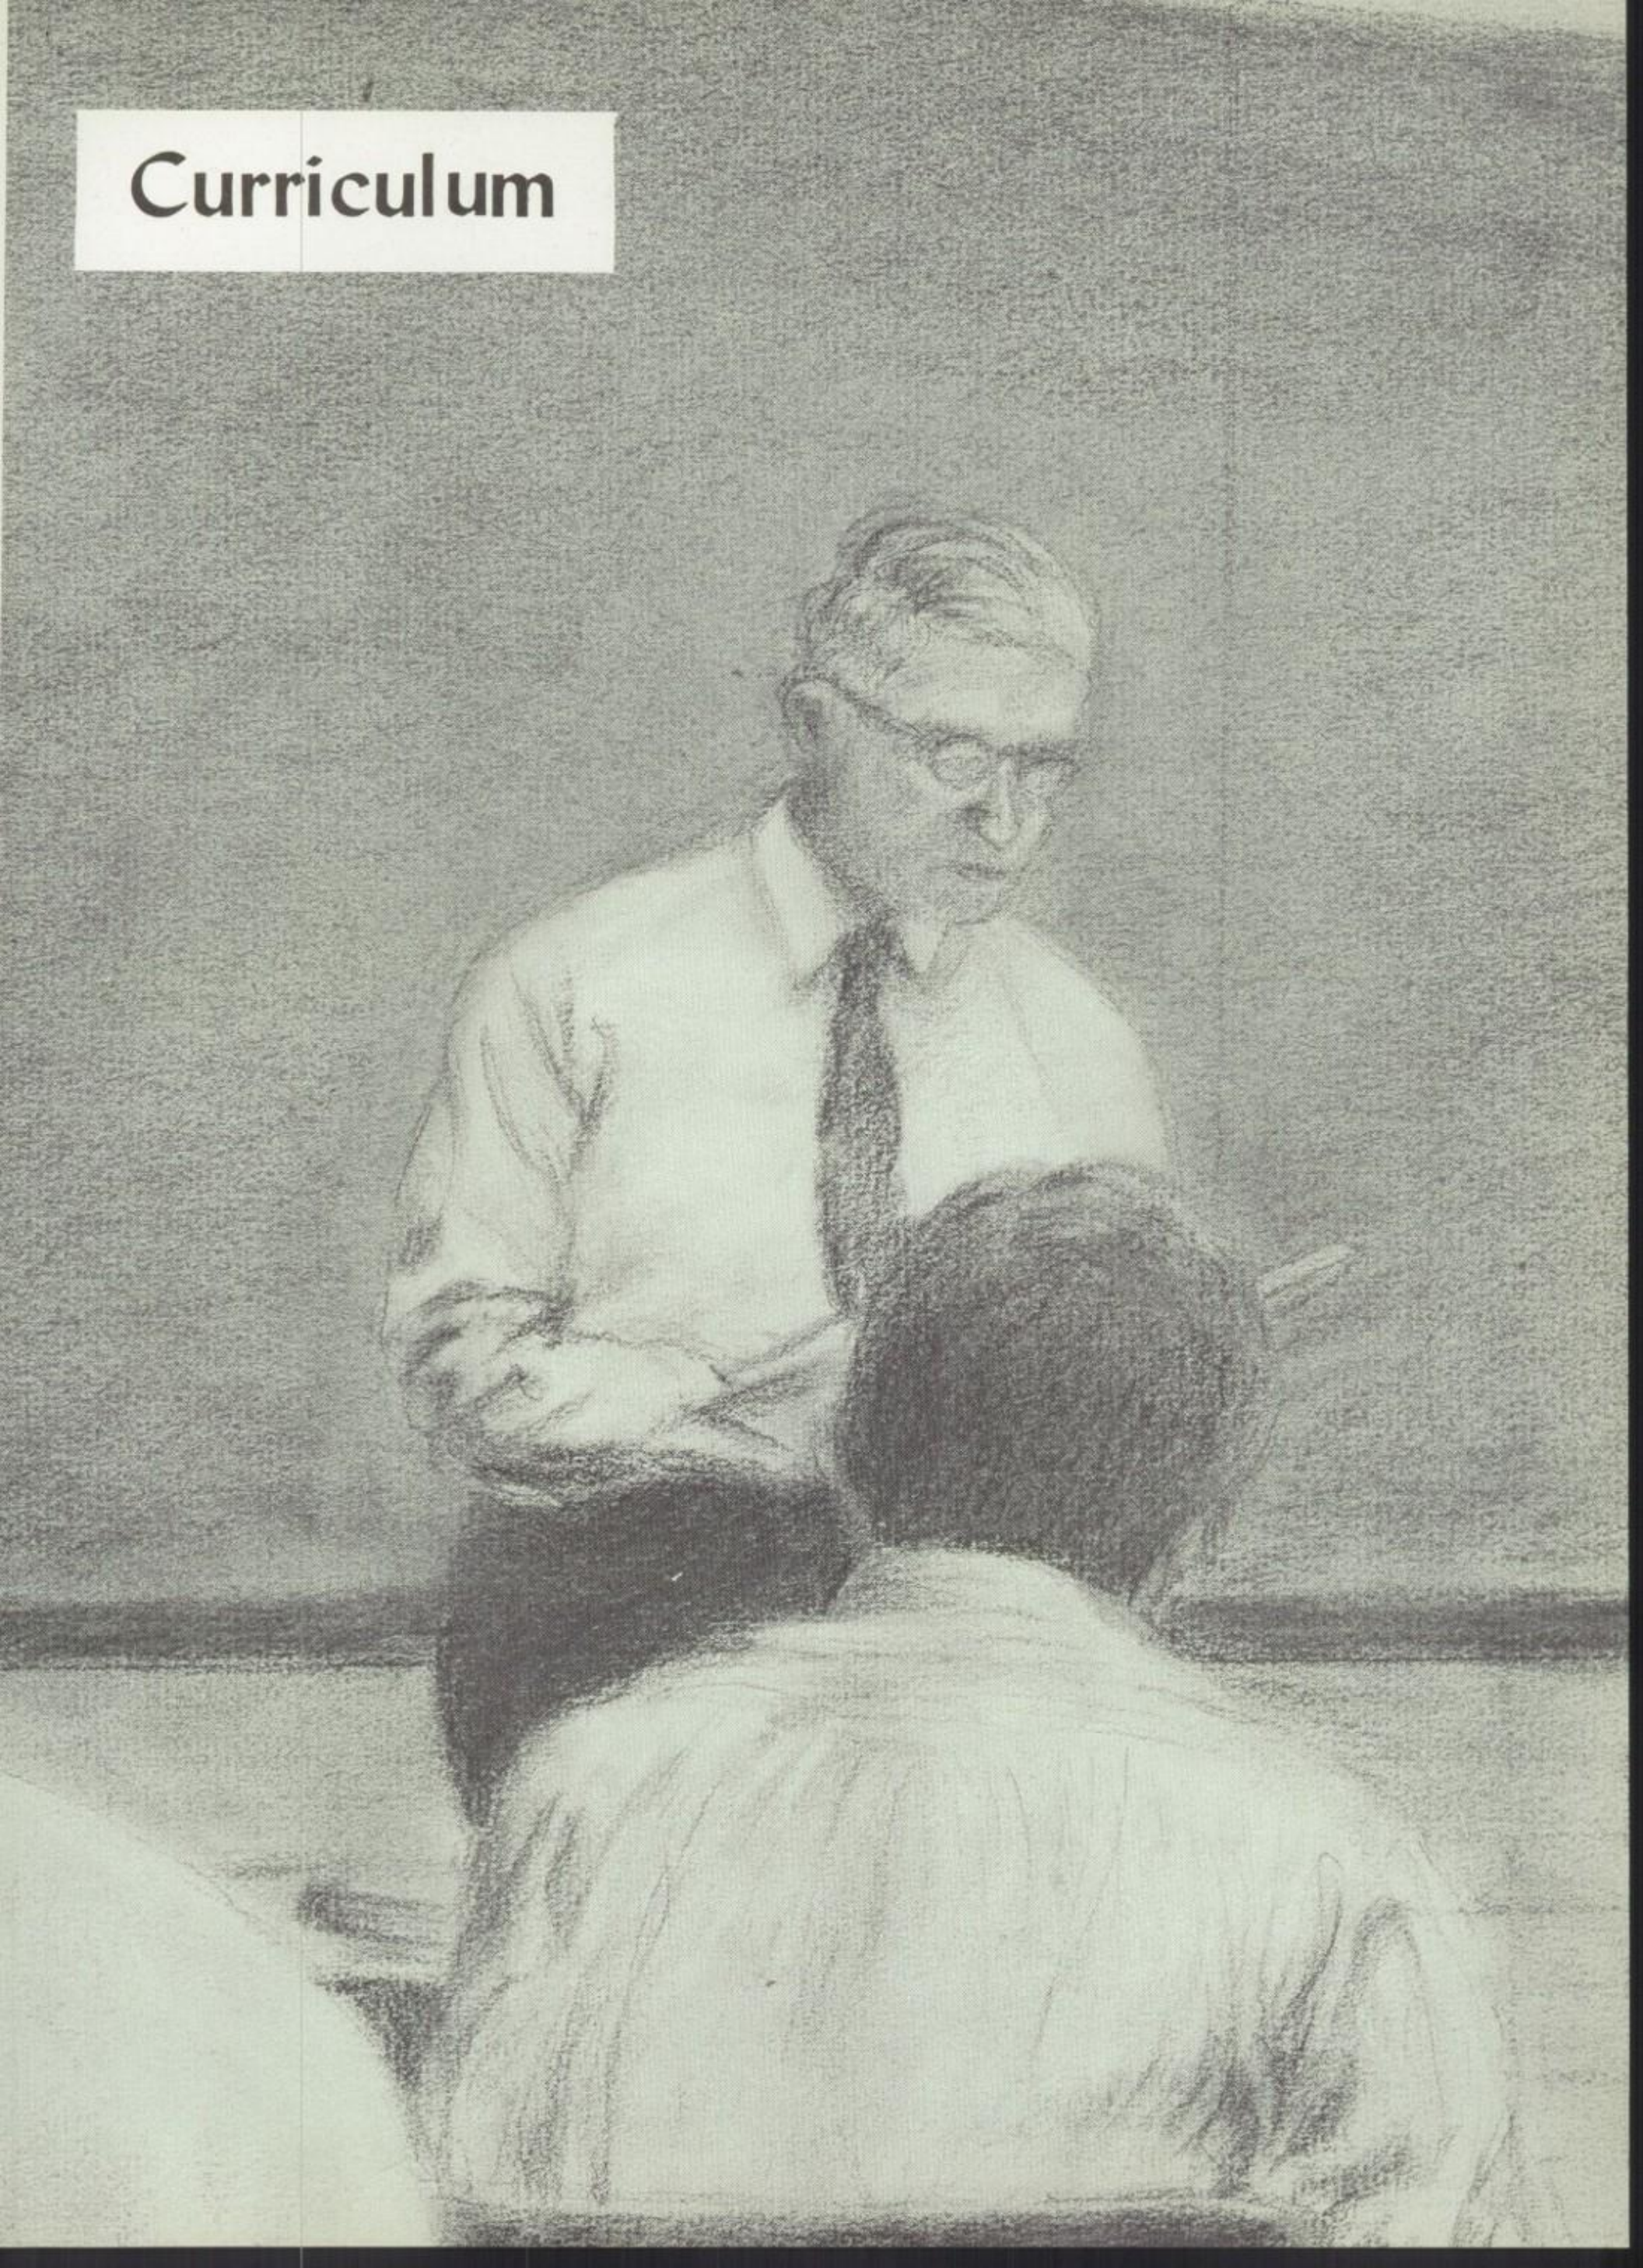

We participate. Become involved. We busy ourselves memorizing formulas, experimenting, planning for tomorrow and beyond.

Only a few short years separate us, the playful, curious, adventuresome youth, from the burdens of playing life for keeps.

What we are, we are because of Lee High. It has affected us; it has changed us; we will be changed again. But here we begin. Exchanges have taken place; they are even now. We move on now to search, to learn, to understand. We have now begun preparation for the only sure thing in life:

Since first grade we all have heard about new math. In this program, which is now in full swing at Lee High, teachers have been teaching more theory than practice in order to help students understand the basic principles of math. These highly qualified teachers have given us the opportunity, that many others will never have, to explore the field of mathematics.

Just call me Cecil.

Now is a time for saying goodbye to many familiar things: pep rallies, games, crowded hallways and lunch lines, taking exams and of course heading for Florida.

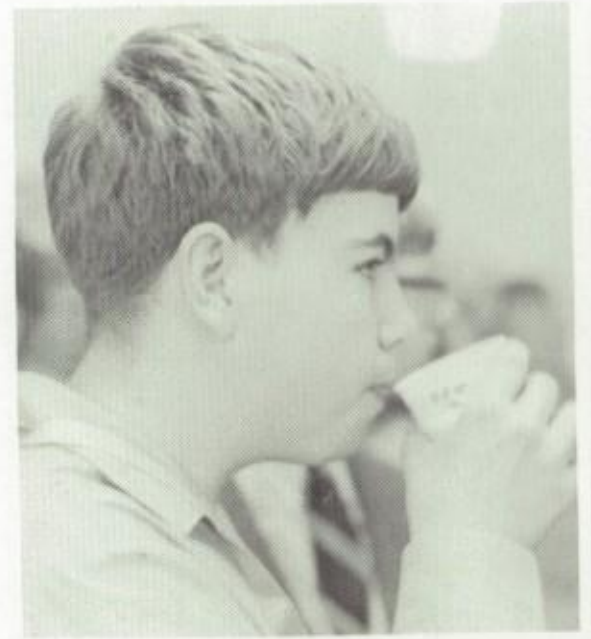

It was a time for learning not only about abstract ideas and past happenings but about ourselves and those around us.

Ahead lies a future of college, careers or the service. It will be full of new faces and new hopes. But however bright our futures, they will never out shine the many memories we have of Lee High.

We even have our own "Playboy"

Wow! It sure doesn't taste like tomato juice!

The year of the Republicans

Yes students, Revolution is the only answer!!

The Lee High office aids generously donate their time to diligent hard work!

I sure hope this cheery bomb has a long fuse.

What this library needs is a life time subscription to Playboy!

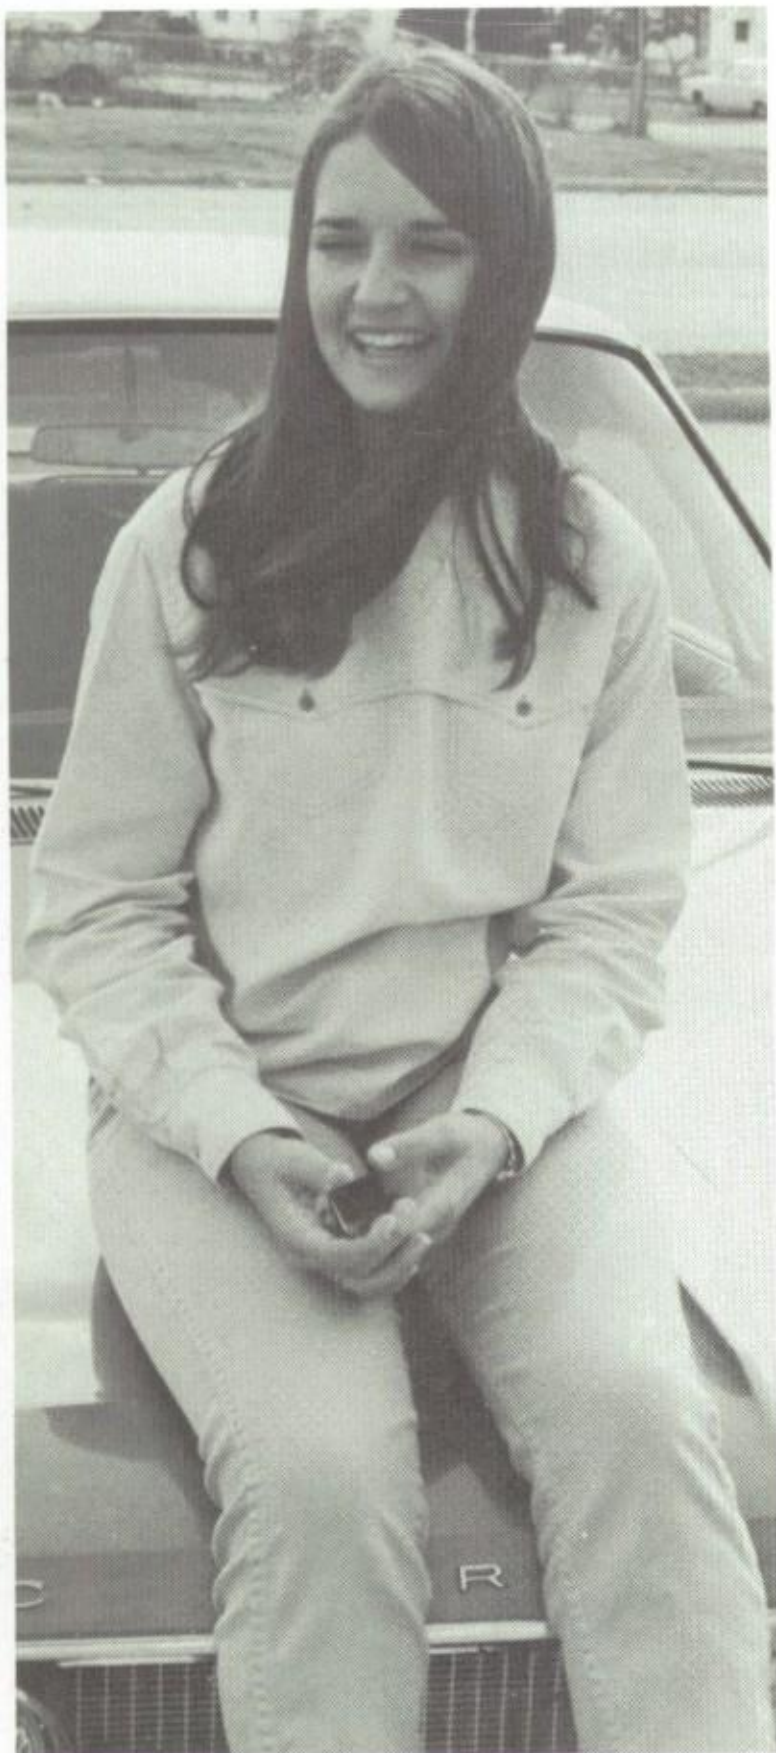

You actually think you can keep me here?!

VICTORY!!

No. 9 in the 3rd race really paid off!

Sorry, but I ain't movin' till you say you'll take me home!!

I wonder when she'll notice that I spiked the punch!!

The pay ain't much but the work suits me.

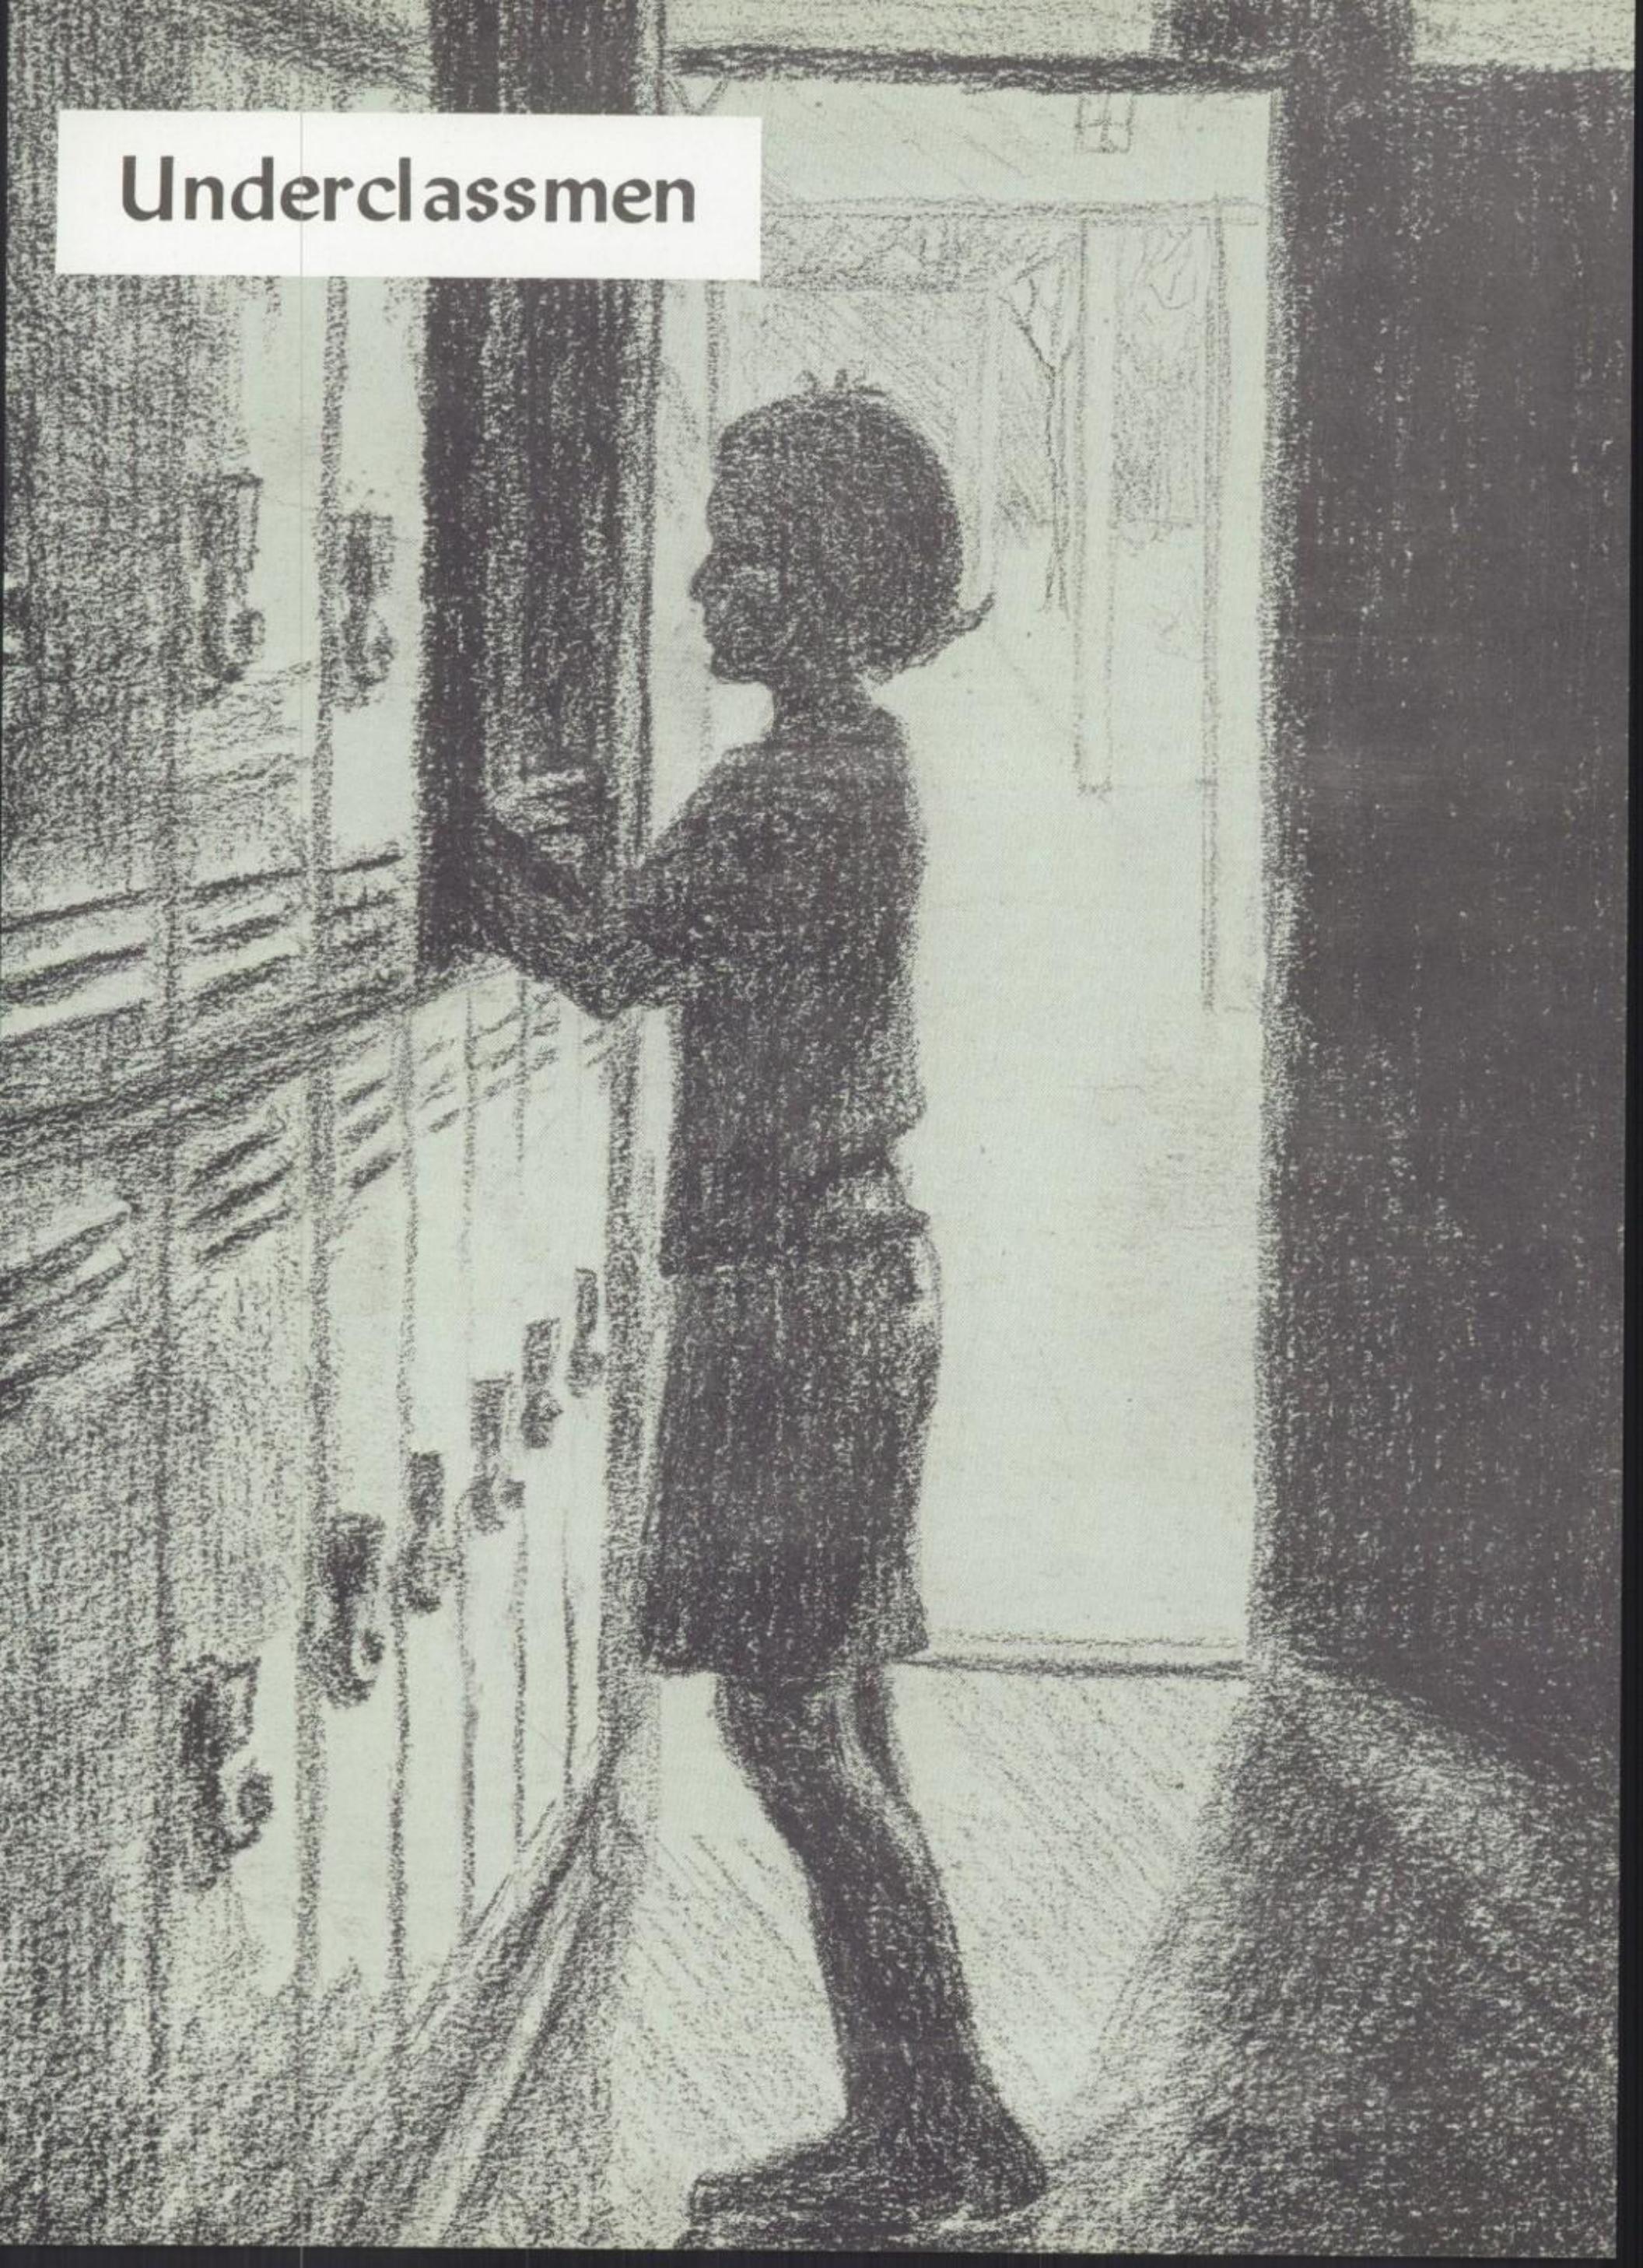

Now if they could only sing!!

I still say Coach McCoim is going to find us sooner or later!

This year's Lee High Football Team may not have had the winning season that all of their supporters wanted, but they certainly did try hard enough. That is really all that matters. Some people have asked why didn't the Rebels win, but you just don't know. It seemed in every game as though the Rebels had enough there to win, with interceptions and fumbles keeping them from doing it. Some people have said that injuries hurt the chances of having a winning season. Through this season, the team tried hard enough to have a winning season, and we the students are just as proud of them as if they had won every game.

Lee High 34 Opelousas 7

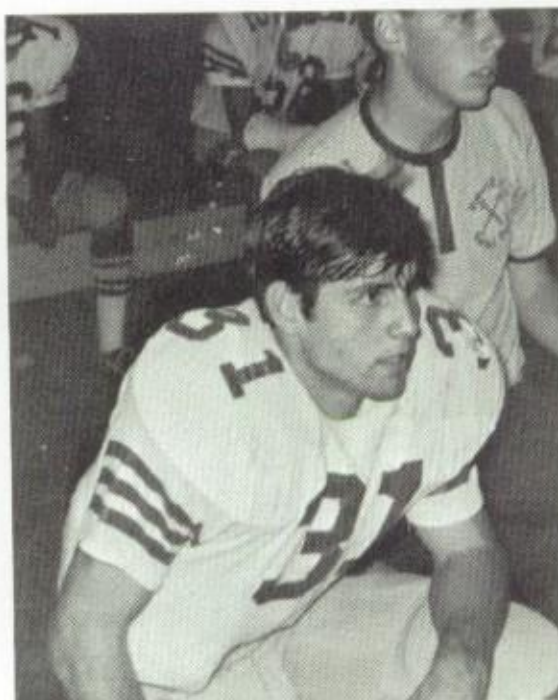

"Mixing runs and passes effectively, quarterbacks Ric Bajon and Gary Black guided Lee High to a 34-7 Triumph over Opelousas . . . in both teams regular season opener. Scoring the first three times they had possession the Rebels built up a 20-0 halftime margin against the visiting Triple-A team and then came back with two touchdowns, one on Clay Mahaffey's 93-yard kickoff return after OHS had scored its lone marker . . ." Lee edged Nederland in statistics, 16 first downs to 15 and 235 yards in total offense to 215 yards, but came up behind on the scoreboard 13-7. The Rebels dominated the first half and kept Nederland deep in its own territory with a stunning defense. The Rebels' only score came on a drive of 55 yards in the second quarter which gave the Rebels a 7-0 half time lead. Nederland then came back in the third quarter with two touchdowns and went ahead to stay 13-7.

"Ball control was the theme of the night as the Lee High Rebels racked up their second victory of the season 18-6 over the Gulfport Commodores in an interstate game Friday night. Carefully choosing his strategy Lee quarterback Ric Bajon mounted three scoring drives of 66, 53, and 48 yards using 11 as his magic number to complete each drive in eleven plays..." Quarterback Ric Bajan passed from the 4 yard line into the endzone to tight end Roger Goree for the only score of the first half . . . Istrouma dominated the first half completely, but some clutch plays by the Lee defense held the Indians to a 3-0 half time lead. The Indians, however marched for a touchdown at the beginning of the third quarter to increase their lead to 10-0. The Rebels came back with a torrid attack and took the ball to the Indian 8 yard-line only to have it intercepted at the 2 yard-line. Both teams tried for scores again and failed with the game ending in a 10-0 win for Istrouma.

This game marked the Rebels first loss on their home field since 1963, the first loss against Catholic High, and their first homecoming loss. The Rebels were hurt in this week's game by injuries sustained in the game against Istrouma. They were not however, beaten as badly as the score suggests. They were ahead in first downs, but interceptions and fumbles hurt their performance and ended drives.

Late in the 3rd quarter Baton Rouge High scored a touchdown and went ahead 6-2. Lee High had two drives in the fourth quarter, but couldn't turn them into touchdowns.

Lee High was a big surprise in district this year. With a startling line-up composed of only one senior, the Rebels came very close to winning the district championship. Going into the last game of the season, the Rebels were tied for first place with Baton Rouge High and Broadmoor. The Rebels lost this game to Baton Rouge High in a very close contest. This loss, coupled with a win by Broadmoor put Lee High in third place for the season. The main thing that is good about this season is next season. The Rebels will have four of their starting five back next year.

1968 RECORD

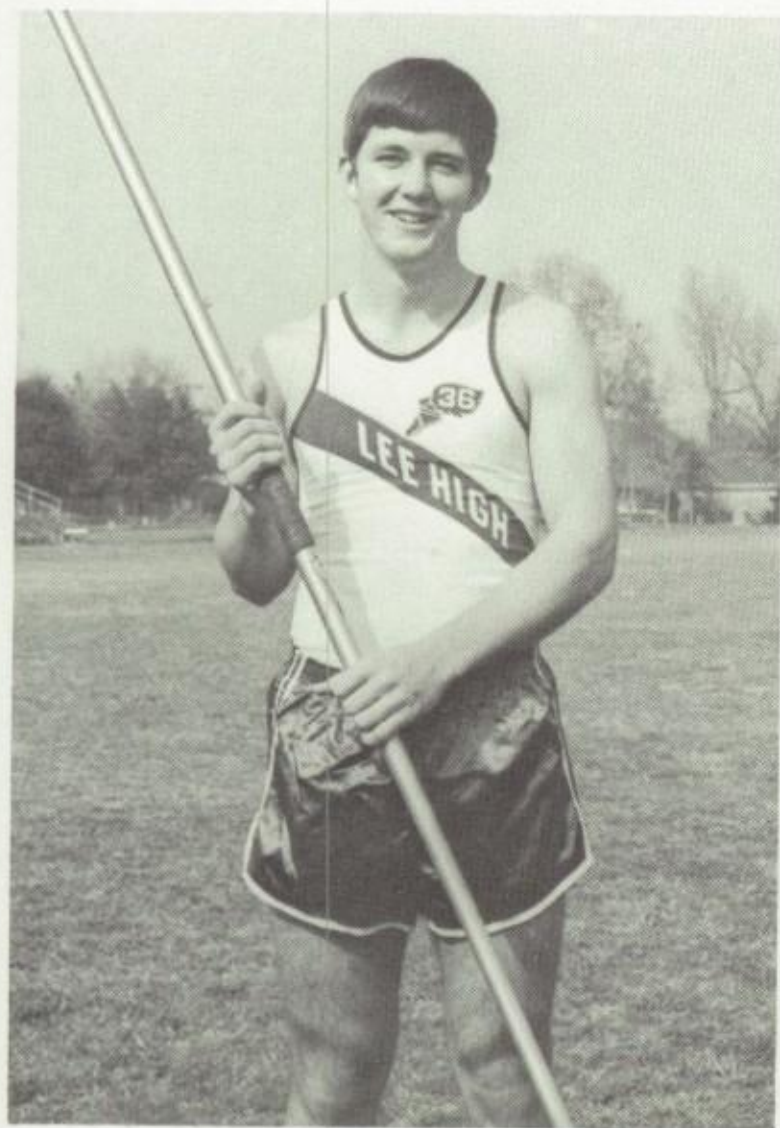

Lee High has been the biggest track power in the state for the past two years with two state championships in a row. This coming season the Rebels will have a hard task facing them again, if they want to win the state meet, for they will be without the services of sprinter Al Coffee. But in track, as in other sports, one man doesn't make a team.

1968 DISTRICT RECORD

Last year's team was the Cinderella team of the district. At the beginning of the season the Rebels were picked to be last place in the district. Until the last game of the season the Rebs were in contention for the state playoffs. The Rebs, however, lost that game to Istrouma in the last inning and ended the season in third place. This year's team will have a similar task before them, and all we can do is hope that they do as well or better than last year's team.

Lee High's Student Council is the organ of the school through which the students speak. Each home-room elects a representative to represent that class at Student Council meetings.

This year Student Council sponsored three new projects. The first was freshman orientation or better known as Johnny Reb Day. The others include a political rally with guest speakers and the selling of locker shelves.

Throughout the year Student Council members are kept busy with long-standing projects such as pep ribbons, letters to Viet Nam, and a homecoming dance. The collecting of toys for the needy at Christmas, the election of Miss Merry Christmas, and the Christmas assembly are all sponsored by the Student Council.

In general, Student Council members serve not only their own school, but their community as well. It is the one real link between the faculty and the student body.

Student Council representatives erect Christmas tree.

In March members meet other Latin students at the annual state convention.

Deutches Club offers all German Language students an opportunity to explore their language interests. To glimpse real German atmosphere, club members take a trip to the German areas of New Orleans where they sample German food in an authentic restaurant.

Our French Club (Un Coin de Paris) is the largest of the language clubs. After selling candy as a fund-raising project; members take an annual spring trip to New Orleans. Also, twenty-five adventuresome students traveled abroad last summer for a ten week tour of Europe.

Another active language club is La Tertulia, representative of all eager Spanish students. Two trips to visit old Mexico are planned each year by the club. Members also work for charity in their annual food drive for the needy.

THE ROBERT E. LEE HIGH BAND DEPARTMENT

Lee High has reason to be proud of its band. Our band consists of sixty-four members who work hard to make it best. It represents our school in many ways such as in district and state band festivals. Some of the members are talented enough to be included in all-parish and all-state bands. Our band also provides very well planned half-time shows for all Lee High football games. You can always find the marching band at every game to create spirit and to help the Rebel cause.

The Lee High stage band is made up of members of the varsity band. It specializes in popular music to appeal to the younger generation. Throughout the year the Stage Band performs for various organizational meetings in the Baton Rouge area.

Mr. Gerbrecht has added yet another group to the Lee High Music Department. The Lee High Orchestra begins its first season this year.

A very important project of the music department this year has been that of obtaining money for new uniforms. In an effort to secure this money, several large money-making attempts have been made successfully. The "Treasure and Trash" sales of used items netted the band $750 alone.

The Music Department of Lee High adds more to school spirit than perhaps any other group on campus, and at the same time offers one of the best music instruction programs in the parish.

Confederettes, the marching, spirit-rousing, group of girls, leads Robert E. Lee in many ways. You will always find them at every football game, rain or shine. They also grace the field during the half time show along with the band. Confederettes are also found participating whole heartedly in all pep rallies with their skits and decoration throughout the auditorium.

Dixie Day is sponsored each year by the Confederettes. They help to make the day a happy and cheerful one for all. The girls participate in civic projects by ringing bells for the Salvation Army and also by marching in local parades.

Confederettes serve the school in many ways. They help to guide freshmen during Freshman Orientation Day and on the opening days of school. Also, Homecoming Decorations are done by Confederettes each year.

The Confederettes make trips over this state and others supporting the team. One of their trips was to Gulfport, Mississippi on Sept. 20, 1968 to back the football team. They also took a trip Nov. 29 and 30 to Lafayette. This one was taken to cheer the basketball team on to victory.

To help pay for the trips and other activities, they have money making projects. A few of these are sales of donuts, candy and stationery.

These girls are a credit to the school and we should all be proud of the work they do.

The Traveler, Lee High's student paper, is unique in several ways: its contents, its paper, and its dates of publication.

The contents of the Traveler tend to reflect many aspects of student life at Lee, although not all. The make-up generally consists of articles on awards won by students, election results, and projects carried out by various school organizations.

The sports page is surprisingly frank and accurate in all of its reporting and editorializing.

The regular editorial page, although always offering helpful suggestions and hopeful ideas, sometimes passes up the opportunity of constructive criticism offered to the student writers. However, out of these editorials spring a fantastic selection in creative essays.

Rather than using the usual tabloid paper like most other schools, the Traveler is printed on the finest quality paper available in printing.

One special fact to note is that all work done on the Traveler is done in the student's free time, not in a regularly scheduled class. This, in itself is an achievement which is rare in any high school paper.

Unfortunately, The Traveler, unlike other student papers, is not published on a bi-monthly or even monthly basis; its more like once a six weeks. But even this has certain advantages. Because of the time taken in careful preparation and editing, along with the lasting quality of paper, The Traveler ends up being a keepsake for years to come — rather than a once-read gossip sheet whose main achievement is the littering of "B" Building floors.

The average young person is a complicated animal. He wants independence desperately, yet secretly he's afraid of what it may bring. Adults hesitate in allowing him to work alone, but, when given the chance, he produces fair results. His varied faces and costumes are rivaled in number only by clowns. At an age of action, this is

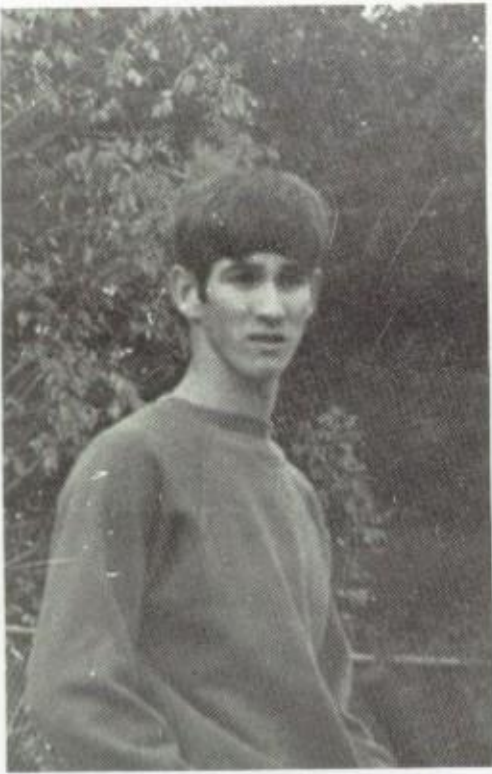

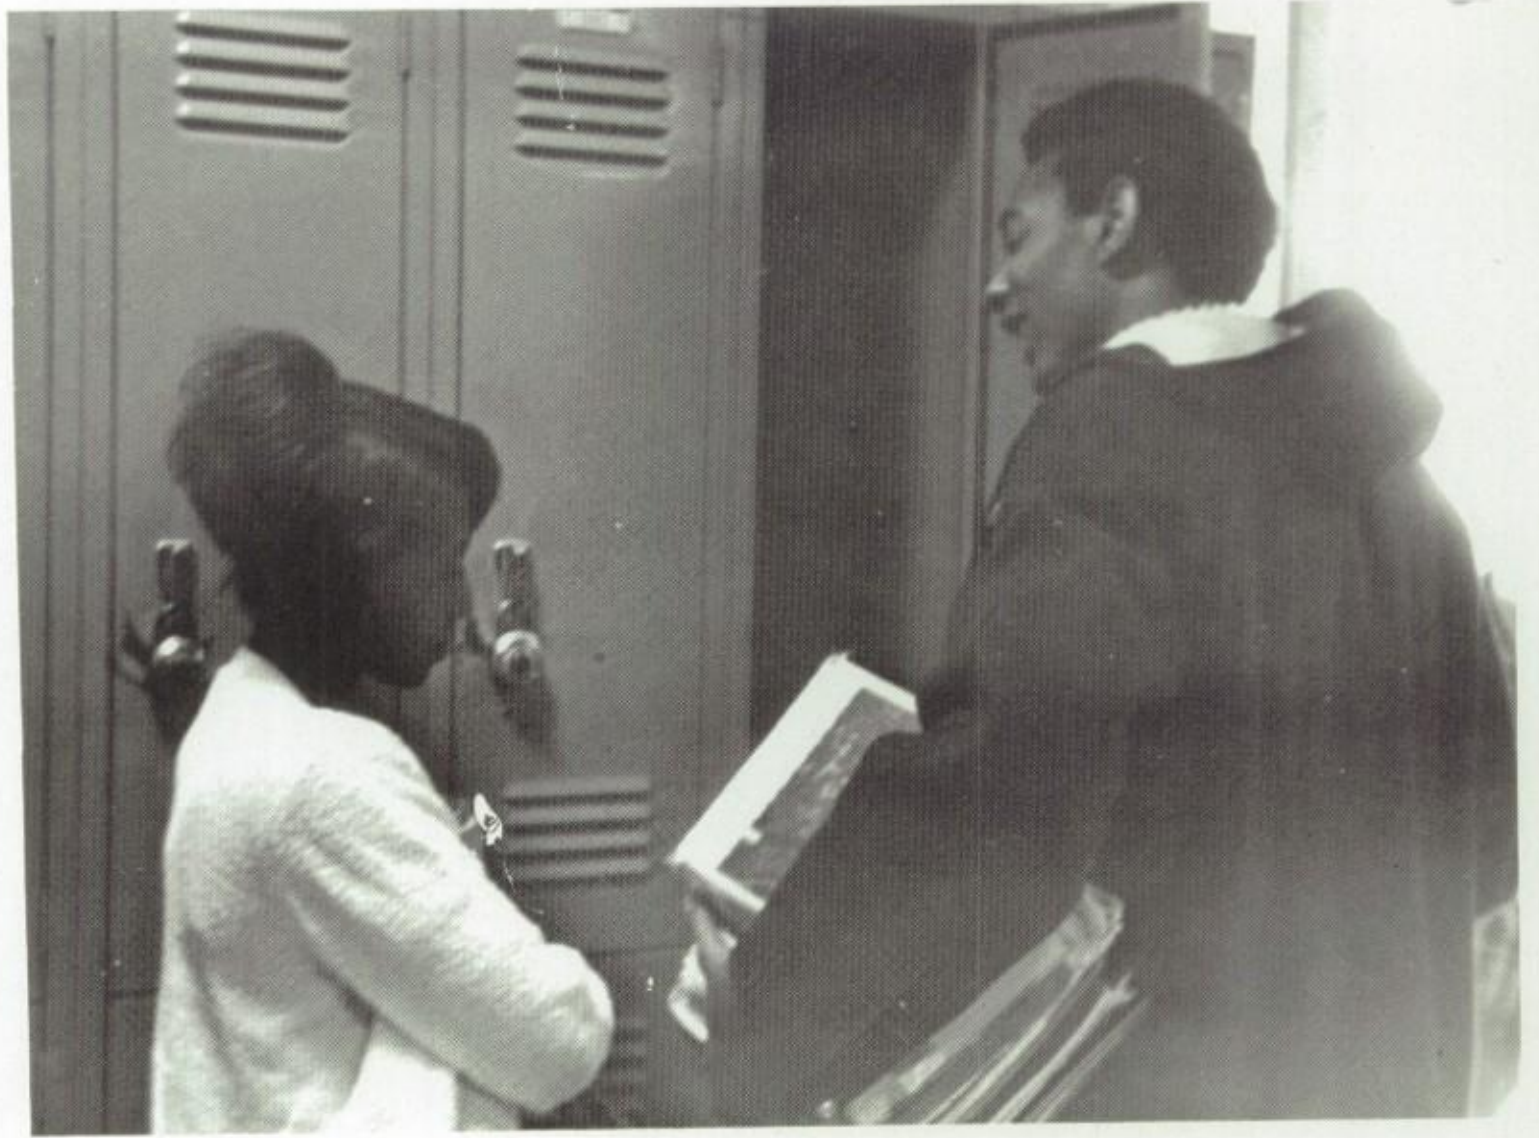

Student Life

There's no way of forgetting them. Those long, tiring hours spent in preparation for It. The test. How does one ready himself? To each his own. Some concentrate best out-of-doors; others amidst the quiet of a library. In a thousand ways. And the testing, it's the same: some pray, some chew pencils, some cry. But when it's all over, nothing ever works like

Plain Study

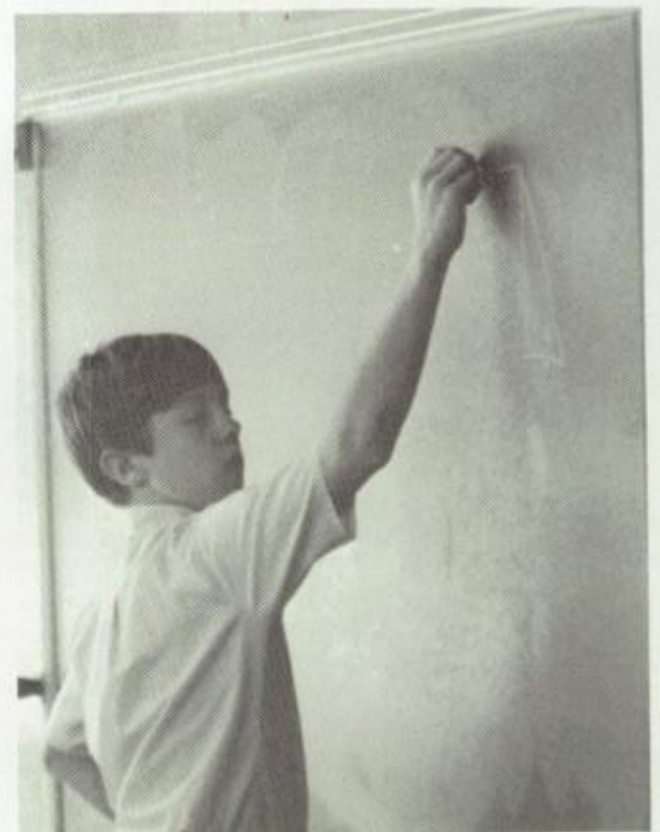

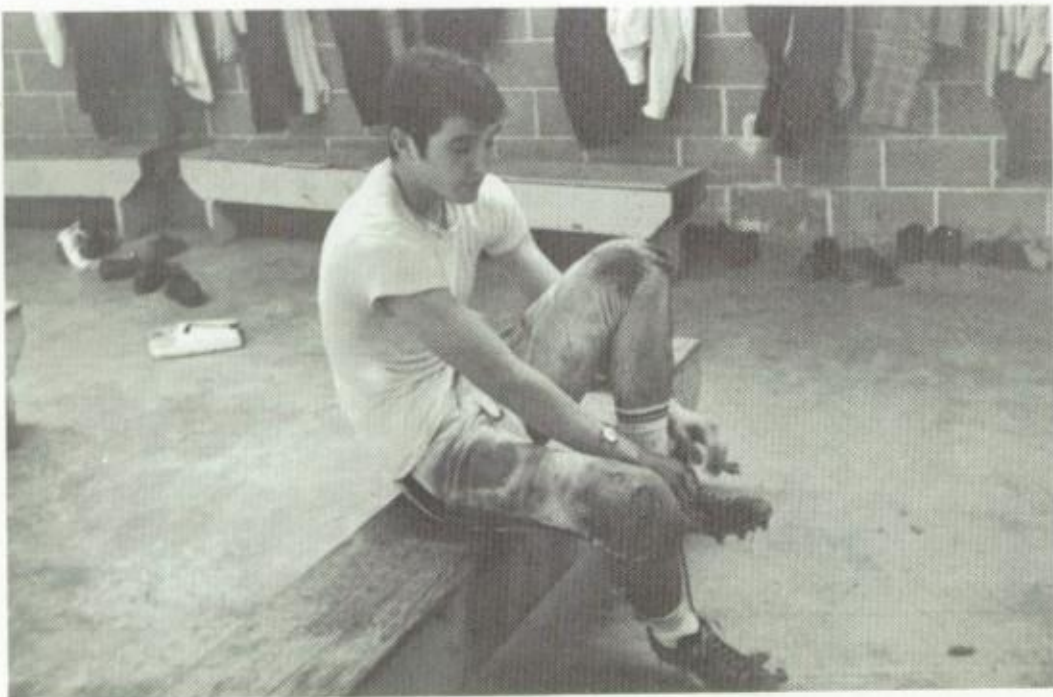

Discipline's a good thing. But kids are going to be kids no matter what. No apology; that's the way it is. Life isn't complete without a scuffle on a bus — or a doze inside it. Friends to talk with at a locker; notes passed in class. Sweatshirts and shop. Knitting booties may seem funny, but then, so are

Young People

Lee High. A fascinating place. So much to be shared, so much to be gained. A world with love in so many forms. The life dedication of capable men. The love of learning and pride of knowledge. Warmth among people. Spirit for a cause. Yet it comes and goes before tomorrow. So, having had the opportunity to obtain these things, all one can say is, simply

There are times. Times remembered or forgotten, times treasured or lost. These past months have been good ones — times that, thankfully and yet regrettably, will not — cannot be relived. They were times of laughter, of fellowship, of personal meaning. There was sadness, seriousness, and possibly, realization of self. We must leave these times now, for they have come and gone. But bigger, better times are to come — times when we truly find ourselves, truly live, truly love. But when we are surrounded, or tired, or thoughtful, it's nice to slip back into the days of youth, these, the Times Gone By.

To my little girl

Well Jude,

We've come a long way together. I really don't know how I could have made it without you. You're a wonderful friend to have. And I love having the lunch shift with ya. I sure in the hell hope that we get it together every year. Plus a couple of gillion classes with ya too. We've shared fun at slumber parties, parties, Cyo convention, etc. We've talked about our boy problems till both of our ears almost fell off. We still have three more years to go but think how happy we're going to be when we do all graduate together. Well, it's time to close but I know that we'll keep in touch during the summer. I'll have my license and just think on May 22nd. you'll have yours. We can take turns with the car huh. I love ya & Jude

Judy

This summer, let's get together with ones. When I get my license I'm gonna pick up everybody & we'll go somewhere & be queer (not that kind Judy) we'll take care

this summer & don't forget me when school starts again next year! Call me sometime (3436178)

Love ya' loads
Javier

Hi Judy,

Well it's been a long & tiresome year but we've survived through it & the many years at St. Agnes. (Too bad we had to leave the old school.) We've been friends so many years I don't think it will ever end. & I hope it doesn't. We've been through thick & thin with each other & I'm glad. We have really gotten to know each other better through it, too. Good Luck with your love problems. Always like Yummy because he likes you so much.

Oh well in 3 more years we'll be up on stage doing what they were doing today & I can't wait. Go Senior's 72. It's been fun spending the night with each other & telling each other our problems. Sorry about all the little quarrels we've had but I'm sure you didn't mind.

Stay as cute & as sweet as you are & as you always have been. I'm sure we'll see a lot of each other during the summer since we live by each other. I'm sure I could write a lot more but I must end. So be good. We'll be friends forever & ever. Love ya,
Nancy

Judy,
one of the cutest and friendliest girls
I know. Boy when we start laughing
together we can't stop
till we're laughing
so much there's no room for anything else.
It was great!!
I hope you'll miss me next year. I'll miss you too.
Bessie Longoria
